I invite you to watch an informative panel discussion about understanding your spine tumor diagnosis. This Spine-Talks program includes myself as one of the panelists, along with Dr. Daniel Sciubba, and was developed by the National Spine Health Foundation to provide valuable insight into the diagnosis and treatment of spine tumors.

Much of what I cover in this program are topics that we discussed during your appointment, but this video format allows you to review and watch at your own pace. The goal of this program is to empower patients with knowledge so you can face this challenge with hope.

Kind regards,

Dr. Rhines
